• Project Handling

We provide customers with solutions to major multimodal movements from the very start of a project quotation through professional packing, insurance, documentation, movement overseas, customs clearance and delivery at site. Our specialists offer solutions for professional handling of oversized and heavy cargo. This coupled with all the necessary equipment and expertise to handle the most complex road haulage projects make our company the partner of choice for our clients. Transportation of odd and over-dimensional cargo to project sites in India as well as overseas and ensuring that the equipment is duly returned to the principal constitutes the core of project cargo handling. Movement of project cargo requires special equipment and handling, as it does not fall within standard measurement or method. We release this through the combination of expertise, Knowledge and expertise.

Our expertise enables to identify the most cost effective route, allowing our client to insure the timely delivery of their equipment as well as security of it while in transit.

- Warehousing

We facilitate bonded and un-bonded warehouse services. The primary purpose of the warehousing and distribution facility is to insure that the right amount stock is in the inventory available at the appropriate time in the correct condition order picked on schedule in the right quality and delivered to the required location to satisfy our customer order.

We deliver the advance warehousing solution when physical features have been developed, providing warehouse slotting and product location. Our product location is based on the simple principle that reduces the packing time and reducing traffic congestion within the warehouse.

- Door to Door Delivery

We offer a Door-to-Door delivery service whereby we take delivery of the cargo from the exporter's factory or warehouse and carry out the entire transportation process right up to the warehouse of the buyer. Very often our clients opt for such a delivery option as it streamlines the movement of cargo by eliminating the need for multiple intermediaries and at the same time facilitates complete logistics management at a lower cost and minimal risk of loss or damage to the merchandise. Our expertise in providing such a value added service can be attributed to our wide reach within India by way of our branch offices as well as internationally by way of our large network of reliable agents.
